

My visit to the Shark Center Provincetown

ATLANTIC
WHITE SHARK
CONSERVANCY

When I visit the center, I will need to walk down MacMillan Pier to arrive at the museum. It is located on the pier with the fishing boats and whale watch vessels.

Check In and Sticker

When we arrive, we will check in at the admissions desk. Everyone will get a sticker to wear for our visit.

Helpful Materials

At the admissions desk, my adult can ask for things to help me feel more comfortable during my visit.

Museum staff

There are lots of friendly people that work and volunteer at the museum. They wear a nametag. They love to answer my questions and can help me if I need it.

Exploring the museum

There is an exhibit hall to explore. I can read the exhibits, and some allow me to interact with them by touching. My adult and I will stay together and choose what we want to learn about.

The museum has restrooms for me to use. A volunteer can show me where they are.

There are videos playing in the museum. I will hear people talking, the noise from an airplane and boat, as well as other noises from the video players.

The museum has a large sand table I can create sandbars and other shapes in. I will be careful to keep the sand inside the bin :-)

The museum has a shark cage I can stand inside.
The cage is an LED light show that will make it appear I am underwater.

Time to Go

Soon it will be time to leave. To exit, I will leave through the same doors that I entered. I will wave goodbye to the Shark Center!
